

December 17, 2007

Short bio:

Crescent and Frost beautifully blend folk, pop, country and bluegrass to create a truly original and heartfelt sound. Based in New York City, the core of Crescent and Frost – songwriters Maryann Fennimore and Daniel Marcus – are joined by guitarist Rich Hinman and Canada's Jason Mercer on bass (Ani DiFranco, Ron Sexsmith).

Long Bio:

Crescent and Frost beautifully blend folk, pop, country and bluegrass creating a truly original and heartfelt sound. Based in New York City, Crescent and Frost's core is the songwriting duo of Maryann Fennimore and Daniel Marcus. Their melodic, catchy, poignant songs tell of home, nostalgia, love and family.

Vocalist/lyricist Fennimore's warm tone and heartfelt delivery reflect an innate musicality. Daniel Marcus's composition/arrangement as well as his deft guitar-work and sweet harmonies are the perfect complement. Early on the pair attracted musical talent from around North America. Rounding out the group are guitarist Rich Hinman, well-versed in jazz, country and rhythm and blues traditions, and Canadian Jason Mercer, founding member of the Bourbon Tabernacle Choir and former bandmate to Ani DiFranco, Ron Sexsmith and Sarah Harmer among others.

Make It Home, is Crescent and Frost's third record, following critically acclaimed Pennsylvania and Open Doors. Lee Alexander, the talented producer/co-songwriter/ Bassist for Norah Jones and Amos Lee, came on board and produced Make It Home. The album features the band along with drummer Andy Borger, who plays with Norah Jones and Tom Waits. The album features love songs with Crescent and Frost's Modern take on Americana and Acoustic Music, as well as a breath taking rendition Of the Supremes' classic hit, Stop In The Name of Love

Praise for the group abounds. The Washington Post described their work as "Sweet songcraft... a delicious secret," and the Pittsburgh City Paper calls them "An acoustic music joy." Don't miss the band Toronto's Now magazine describes as simply "Breathtaking".

<http://www.crescentandfrost.com>